Hand Care Cream

HERBAL HAND CREAM

Hands reveal a person's true age. They are subjected to particular stress with each hand grip. In addition, modern detergents and washing up liquids come into contact with the hands on a daily basis. As an uncovered part of the body, the hands are regularly exposed to the influences of wind and weather. So is it really surprising that the skin on the hands, as well as the fingernails and cuticles, often appear "brittle"?

Hand Care Cream combats chapped, irritated and reddened hands with active substances which have long been highly regarded in the field of herbal remedies. In the long-term, a protective film is built up in the sense of an invisible glove.

The smooth herbal cream develops its pleasant, cooling effect immediately after use, and can be effortlessly applied each time after washing the hands – without feeling greasy.
