JANSSEN COSMETICS

BODY

- For an activating massage as part of the contouring treatment
- Stimulates blood flow and lymphatic circulation
- Promotes purification
- Makes the skin feel soft and supple
- Essential oils promote well-being

Application in the cabin

Apply and massage Grape Seed Massage Oil for full and partial body massage. Treat thighs, hips, abdomen, as well as the inside of the arms particularly intensively.

The massage oil has particularly good results in the CONTOURING treatment, as the active ingredients used, serve to intensify the effect.

However, algae oil is also a good massage medium for all other massages.

Note: Avoid contact with the eyes and mucous membranes. Please do not use after depilation.

Grape Seed Massage Oil

MASSAGE OIL

Grape Seed Massage Oil, based on grape seed oil, algae extracts and essential oils of rosemary & lemon, strengthens the tissue and hydrates the upper skin layers. The pleasantly light texture provides a massage with great comfort, and stimulates blood flow and lymphatic circulation. Throughout the treatment, the oil gently glides over the skin, providing suppleness and elasticity. In combination with rosemary and lemon essential oils, it activates body and soul.

ACTIVE INGREDIENTS

- Grape seed oil: Grape seed oil is obtained from crushed grape seeds (Vitis vinifera); high polyunsaturated fatty acids content, especially linoleic acid (C18:2); contains natural vitamin E; skin nourishing and smoothing
- Laminaria Extract: Laminaria algae are rich in mineral salts, vitamins and trace elements. They have a remineralising effect and strengthen the skin's hydrolipid film. In addition, they tighten and firm the skin, thus providing a slimming effect
- Lemon: The essential oil from the peel of the fruit, which is native to the entire Mediterranean region, has a fine, fruity scent and a holistic mood-lifting and activating effect
- Rosemary: Essential oil from Rosmarinus officinalis, a plant native to the Mediterranean region; rich in flavonoids; relaxing and revitalising. Zest for life and lightness. It has a fresh and slightly fruity smell
